

Jay Z and Beyonce To Donate $15 Million To Donald Trump's Presidential Campaign!!

Power couple Jay Z and Beyonce have announced that they will donate $15 million to Donald Trump's 2016 presidential campaign. Trump made his bid for presidency this year for the Republican Party and is first runner up in the primaries as of today. The business tycoon has run for presidency before in 2000 under the Reform Party winning only the state of California during the primaries. The Carters have chosen to endorse Trump, a move that caught most of their fans off guard, considering the close relationship they have with the Obamas, who are democrats. "We associate with the Obamas because they are black, however we are republicans. We are republicans because of our conservative views. We are thankful for republicans as they were the ones who abolished slavery" says rapper Jay Z. Trump is appearing to be a strong candidate and has a following that led him to presidency in the white house.

"I am glad that the Carters realize that I am the right choice. Hopefully I can get the black vote. I plan to visit all the ghettos to campaign. Jay Z has even offered to make me a hip hop song to help win the votes across all the hoods" explains Trump in an interview. According the Gallop Reports, Trump is struggling with winning the hearts of minorities. The lack of popular vote is probably attributed to Trumps outlash against Mexicans and past comments that may appear as racists to many.
